

Park Derochie Coatings Ltd. Health Safety & Environment Policy

Park Derochie Coatings Ltd. is fully committed to our Health, Safety and Environmental program. This is a constantly evolving program that was created by and continues to be maintained and updated by Park Derochie employees to help promote and create a healthy and safe work environment for all of our employees and the community at large.

Our company believes in a 100% safe culture and that requires a demonstrated commitment from all individuals including all levels of management, supervisors and workers. Every employee involved in the day-to-day business of Park Derochie Coatings Ltd. is responsible and accountable for not only their own personal safety but that of all personnel.

All employees have a responsibility to refuse work they consider to be unsafe, or which may present a hazard to themselves or to other workers. It would then be our supervisors and/or managers responsibility to support any valid refusal by an employee and ensure the hazard or condition is controlled or removed in a timely fashion.

It is the objective of Park Derochie Coatings Ltd. to provide a supportive work environment that is free from all recognized hazards, and at the same time, to ensure that we are in compliance with all project site regulations, legislative requirements and environmental standards.

Through the use of established safe work practices, safe job procedures, job planning and by performing our hazard assessments and being proactive we will work together to create a healthy and safe work environment with an overall objective to be injury and illness free.
